

Scene Three
The Midway at the Hoop-La Booth
Later That Morning

(To the cacophony of the BARKERS' overlapping pitches, their booths begin coming into view – the concession stand, the shooting gallery, the Hoop-La booth, and the balloon stand.)

CONCESSION VENDOR. Step right up! Get your cotton candy, candy apples and salt water taffy! / Step right up! Cotton candy, candy apples and delicious salt water taffy! Sweets for your sweetie right here! Hand-spun cotton candy, hand-dipped candy apples and mouth-watering salt water taffy made fresh all day long! Don't forget to take a box or two home with ya. Sweets for your sweetie right here! Get your cotton candy, candy apples and salt water taffy!

SHOOTING GALLERY BARKER. Step right up, folks, and test your marksmanship. One round of ammo for one thin dime. / Step right up! One round for a dime, three rounds for two bits. Four ducks wins any prize on the shelf. How about you, girlie, if your fella's too shy? Show him how it's done or, better yet, let's have a little shootin' match between the two o' ya. Whaddaya say?

HOOP-LA BARKER. Step right up, ladies and gents! Three rings for a dime – the prize you ring is the prize you get! / Step right up! We're havin' some fun here-ha-ha!

BALLOON VENDOR. Step right up, kids! One balloon for a dime, three for a quarter.

ALL. Step right up!

OUR STATE FAIR IS A GREAT STATE FAIR –
DON'T MISS IT, DON'T EVEN BE LATE!

MEN.

OUR STATE FAIR IS GREAT!